4. Not having heard any word about the [REDACTED] for some time, I telephoned Mr. Abersfeller at GSA. He expressed considerable discouragement at not having been able to get a definite answer for us. He said all he was getting in reply to his continued inquiries was that the proposal was still in New York in the hands of their financial people. Apparently, their lenders are concerned about renting more than 80% of the space in the building to the Government. Abersfeller is also trying to lower their price to $5.25 per sq. ft. per annum, fully serviced, which is a lot less than they originally asked for. Confidentially, Mr. Abersfeller told me he thought they would have to get this worked out pretty soon or the project would be a failure. He went on to say that he has almost completed a study of another building which is a half-mile from the Pentagon and might be available at $4.50 per sq. ft. H hearing today, he paid a fine of ten dollars. In view of the minor nature of the offense, Jack thought it would be helpful to the boy and his family if we re-employed him for the next few weeks before he returns to American University. He was working for [REDACTED] in the Office of Logistics who states positively he could use him and would be glad to have him back. Bob Bannerman said the Office of Security would have no objection and, in fact, he thought the youngster had learned his lesson and re-employment would restore his morale. Accordingly, I told [REDACTED] who was also in favor of this move, to get the boy back on the payroll. My only condition was that he should work for at least a couple of weeks, which I am told he will be able to do.

6. Bob Bannerman reported that a group representing the "Walkers for Peace" would picket the South Gate of Headquarters between three and five o'clock this afternoon. Colonel Grogan was notified as well as the front office and the Fairfax County Police Department. Later Bob reported that seven picketers arrived about 3:40 p.m. (including two girls) and were handing out pamphlets in an orderly manner under the watchful eyes of a Fairfax County police detective and a security officer. The proceedings were entirely in order and no trouble ensued.

7. On the lighter side, [REDACTED] called to discuss several minor items and announced that he will be going to work tomorrow morning on his bicycle. (I would like to see this.)
